

Hartsfield Business Bank

Brand Voice and Tone Guidelines

Brand Personality

Hartsfield Business Bank is ambitious, modern, and rooted. It speaks like someone who grew up here, built something here, and has the receipts to prove it. Not corporate. Not cold. Never performative about community — just genuinely of it.

Think: a mentor who also happens to be ahead of the curve. Someone who remembers where you started and already knows where you're going.

Voice Pillars

Straight talk. No jargon. No fine print buried in enthusiasm. Hartsfield says what it means and means what it says. Small business owners don't have time for language that makes them read twice. If a sentence needs a footnote to be honest, rewrite the sentence.

Earned confidence. Hartsfield doesn't announce itself. Twenty-five years of yes when everyone else said no earns the right to speak plainly. Messaging is declarative, not defensive. The bank doesn't need to convince anyone it belongs in this city.

Forward motion. The name is the brand. Hartsfield-Jackson doesn't stop. Neither do the businesses this bank serves. Every piece of communication should feel like it's pointed at something — a goal, a milestone, a next step. Not inspirational fluff. Actual direction.

Warmth without softness. Southern hospitality is real, but it's not weakness. Hartsfield is warm the way a good accountant is warm — they care about you, and that care shows up as clarity, speed, and honesty, not just smiling language.

Tone by Channel

| Channel           | Tone                                                                       |
|-------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Website headlines | Declarative, forward-moving, no fluff                                      |
| Email             | Warm, direct, one clear action per message                                 |
| Social media      | Conversational, Atlanta-specific, celebrates customers more than the brand |
| Product copy      | Plain language, specific numbers, zero ambiguity                           |
